ONE OF THE BIG events of the year in the community will be the St. Lucy's silver jubilee celebration marking the 25th anniversary of the founding of the parish.

A week-long schedule of events is planned starting with a Mass of Thanksgiving on Sunday, Oct. 15, when Archbishop Joseph McGuckin will be present and it will end the following Saturday and Sunday with a barbeque and festival on the church grounds.

A community day is scheduled for Thursday, Oct. 19, and a revue entitled, "All in the Parish", in which talent from the parish will take part, is slated for Friday, Oct. 20.

There will be other events during the week that should make the jubilee outstanding.

It so happens that the week-long jubilee will be held during annual "Fire Prevention Week."

That's an interesting coincidence.

Do we have to spell that out?

THERE WAS A LOT OF scrounging around among business firms last Thursday when the so-called personal property tax was due or, rather when the tax became delinquent.

That tax is known by a number of different names, "business, inventory and equipment" are among the more printable descriptive terms. There are others.

A basic but complicated formula is used by the county assessor in levying the tax and it is, of course, based on the overall countywide tax rate.

Trying to dig up enough dough to make the payment in the midst of the summer doldrums has always presented a problem for us. This year it was no different.

While looking through our files on the tax for the past 16 years and, as usual, feeling anything but cheerful (taxes affect us thataway), we listed the overall tax rate year by year.

And, although it can be said that the listing of the taxes for the past 16 years was revealing and informative, it was also somewhat frightening.

All of us, of course, have been aware that the overall rate has increased year by year. (The tax rate we are talking about is the entire ball of wax, including schools, city, county, districts, etc.)

But until one has occasion to see it down year by year as we did, one doesn't realize just what has happened.

And, quite frankly, we are sorry now, in a way, that we made the list. It might have been better for our peace of mind, if we hadn't bothered.

But, as long as we did it, we will report on it so that you can join us in our misery.

Hold onto your seats. In 1956, our record shows that the overall county tax rate was $6.907 per $100 assessed valuation as opposed to the 1972 rate (which we struggled to pay last week) of $12.516.

We suppose we can't make you feel any worse but our records show that the rate jumped gradually and only in one year (1957) was there a drop from the previous year ($6.907 to $6.371).

By 1962 the rate had reached $8.066 and five years later (1967) it had gone to $9.608.

In all fairness, it must be stated that sometimes the hike in taxes was only a few cents. But in a 16-year period those nickles and dimes mount up. Or did you know?

We are not going to upset you more than we have to but the biggest jump in the tax rate has occurred the last few years.

From 1970 to 1971, the rate took off by a $1.36 increase.

Now that we have spoiled things for you, we will just

PREPARED FOR LUNCH—Patrick McGuire, 5, who starts kindergarten at Hazelwood School next week, and his sister, Anne, 7, a second grader at Hazelwood, have their lunch boxes ready as they prepare for the bells to ring. Patrick and Anne are youngest of the 10 children of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew McGuire of 3720 Century Drive. Eight of the McGuires will be in school this fall, ranging from kindergarten to college.

That's Neal, 11, with his bike on the right. Neal will be starting the sixth grade at Campbell Elementary.

READY TO GO—Five of the 10 children of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew McGuire, of 3720 Century, pose at the front door as they head for their respective schools. Eight of the children are in school this fall ranging from kindergarten to college. Pictured are, from the left, Cynthia, Campbell High; Neal, Campbell Elementary; Patrick, Hazelwood; Eileen, Campbell Elementary; and Anne, Hazelwood.

In the picture on the right, Cynthia, is behind the wheel of the family car as she prepares to drop off her brothers and sisters at their schools.

School bells ring loudly for McGuires

Those mothers who may have become slightly panicky on the eve of school opening while getting their offspring ready for the opening bell, might well consider the school traffic situation that Mrs. Mary Ellen McGuire handles in her household.

When school starts this fall, the Andrew McGuire family, of 3720 Century Drive, Campbell, will cover the educational spectrum from kindergarten to college.

Eight of the 10 McGuire children will be in classrooms, ranging from Patrick, 5, who will be starting kindergarten to Tim, 21, a San Jose State student, and Michael, 18, who will be at West Valley College.

The oldest daughter, Kathleen Mamola, 23, is married and Maureen, 20, is a LVN at Los Gatos Community Hospital.

Patrick is starting kindergarten at Hazelwood where his sister, Anne, 7, who "likes" reading is in the second grade.

Eileen, 13, is in the eighth grade at Campbell Elementary where she is interested in art while Neal, 11, will be in the sixth grade at the same school. Neal played for "Campbell Lumber" in the Little League this summer.

Dan, 17, is a senior at Campbell High where he is on the football team and Cynthia, 16, is a junior there. Cynthia is a member of the "Pirettes" and likes to do seamstress work. This summer she made seven uniforms for the "Pirettes."

Class size

Average class sizes in the Campbell Union (elementary) School Districts have been estimated by the district administration at 25.7, a slight drop from the 25.8 in September, 1971.

The estimated class sizes by grade: Kindergarten, 30.9; grade one, 25.7; grade two, 26.0; grade three, 25.5; grade four, 25.6; grade five, 28.4; grade six, 28.5.

The K-6 average will be at 27 and in the upper grades, the teacher/pupil ratio will average 22.9 at grade seven and 21.6 at grade eight.

School district emphasizes need to reduce vandalism

A major emphasis during the coming school year in the Campbell Union (elementary) School District will be a program which attempts to reduce vandalism and arson in the schools, according to Superintendent Jim D'Avis.

Increases in the incidence of such acts have drastically raised insurance premium rates, he emphasized, and have increased deductible insurance provisions which has required the installation of intrusion alarm systems and in some cases the hiring of guards and watchmen.

D'Avis also added that when juveniles are apprehended in acts of this nature an additional expense occurs as the case moves through Juvenile Hall and the courts.

This additional amount is added to the amount of restitution for the loss and payment in full becomes the obligation of the parent or responsible party.

A solution to this problem is mandatory, as the percentage of the school budget required annually to defray such costs is rapidly mounting, the superintendent noted.

NEXT MONDAY NIGHT

Council acts on park, streets

First tangible steps in two long-awaited city projects, (1) formation of a street improvement district for the industrial area and (2) improvement of Rincon Park, are expected to be taken at the City Council meeting next Monday, Sept. 11.

Bill Wren, public works director, is scheduled to present a resolution of intention for Council approval of Local Improvement District No. 17, which will result in the improvement of Dell Ave. from the IBM plant south to Division and then down Division to Winchester.

City officials report that 70% of the property owners in the specified area have petitioned the formation of the LID which will widen and improve the streets in this portion of the industrial park. Improvement of the sub-standard condition of the streets in that section has long been an objective of both Chamber of Commerce and city officials.

Specifications for the grading contract of Rincon Park are also scheduled for approval by the City Council next Monday. Bids for this phase of the park improvement are expected to be called for, if the "specs" are approved.

Ken Arutunian, of the landscape architect firm that has the contract for the development of a master plan for Rincon Park, is scheduled to be on hand for the City Council meeting to explain the grading aspects and how it fits into the overall master plan.

Council members have indicated also that they want the landscape architect to give them some sort of a time table as to when the entire master plan will be available.

At next Monday's meeting, the Council is also expected to approve the specifications for the calling of bids for a new street sweeper, a skip loader, a brush chipper and a pick-up truck all for the public works department. All the equipment items are included in the city's budget for 1972-73.

Approval of a name-change request for streets in Rancho Del Prado, the single-family development on the former Amato property, is another agenda item for next Monday.

The developers for the property are asking that some of the tentative names that had been placed on the new tract be changed. They are asking that Hedegard Place and Hedegard Ave. be changed to "Shereen Place"; Jane Anne Way to "Jim Elder Drive" and a portion of Hedegard Ave. to "Charmaine Drive" and Dell Court to "Darryl Drive."

If Councilman Rusty Hammer is able to be present next Monday (he was injured in an auto accident recently), the City Council may take action to amend the ordinance setting up the Youth Advisory Commission. Hammer, one of the original members of the Youth Commission, is making a number of recommendations in the Commission operation.

City Manager Bob Stephens was also hopeful this week

EARLY MONDAY

Fire kills boy, 3

A three-year-old boy is dead and his five-year-old sister is suffering from severe burns and smoke inhalation in the Valley Medical Center as a result of an apartment fire early Monday morning at 895 Jean Drive.

Dead is Jessie Jordan, 3, who with his sister, Melissa, 5, were burned in a second floor apartment in a blaze that apparently started from a wall heater that ignited some rags next to it, according to the report of Battalion Chief Sal Leonardi.

The children, who lived with their mother in a lower floor apartment, were alone in the upstairs unit. The fire department, only a short distance away, was contacted at 4:43 a.m., but the flames were so intense by that time that tenants in the building had been forced back by the blaze.

Firemen entered the apartment by the inside stairway. The little boy was found on the floor across the body of his sister. The little girl was revived by firemen but the boy was already dead, according to the fire department report.

BATTALION CHIEF—Salvatore Leonardi, 34, a former captain in the Campbell Fire Department, has been promoted to battalion chief in charge of fire prevention. The promotion was a result of a two-part competitive examination and was effective Sept. 1.

Leonardi, was born in Brooklyn. He resides at 3955 Valerie Drive, with his wife, Jeanette, and daughter, Monica, has had 22 years of fire service experience, most of which has been with Campbell with previous tenure with the county marshal's office.

Chief Leonardi has taken a number of higher education courses and received a degree in fire science in June from San Jose Community College.

The new position was created when the Campbell department was reorganized at the administrative level recently. The position of fire marshal formerly held by Fire Chief Gene Borden was eliminated. Two battalion chiefs now serve directly under Borden. Battalion Chief Dick Bosted is the chief in charge of fire training.

SUMMER VACATION COMES TO END

Classes get under way next week for all area schools

It's back to the bells and the books next Monday, Sept. 11 when all the schools in the area begin their sessions after the traditional summer vacation.

For some of the youngsters in the community, however, classes are already under way. Both St. Lucy's Catholic School and West Valley Seventh Day Adventist School opened on Tuesday of this week, Sept. 5.

Both parochial schools expect practically the same enrollment as last year. Sister Michela is principal of St. Lucy's and David Escobar is principal of the Seventh Day Adventist School located at 95 Dot Ave. just off Campbell Ave.

PAROCHIAL

Principal Escobar heads a faculty of 10 with student enrollment of 160. He reported that there are still a few openings in the kindergarten classes which are open to the public. Parents who would like to enroll their youngsters in the classes can contact the principal at 378-4327.

Sister Michela of St. Lucy's expected an enrollment of 275 in the eight grades. There will be a faculty of four sisters and four lay teachers.

Sister Michela reported a few changes in the faculty with Sister Alberta Marie in the first grade; Miss Donna Sieben, fifth grade and Sister Ann Mendiola, eighth grade.

She said also that Mrs. Susan Morley will be the Title I math specialist on a part-time basis.

HIGH SCHOOL

An enrollment of 14,756 is expected in the nine Campbell Union High School District schools, up from last year's 14,695.

Camden High students will arrive earlier than the others and will participate this Wednesday and Thursday in a college-like program of teacher and period selection. Teachers from the high schools are also taking part in a "Learning Fair" Wednesday and Thurs day.

Campbell, Westmont and Prospect will begin their school day at 8 a.m. while all others begin at 8:30. The first full day of school will be Wednesday, Sept. 13.

A number of principal transfers have taken place. George Miskulin, long-time Del Mar principal, will be at Leigh; Harold Sonntag goes to Del Mar from Blackford; George Buonocore is at Westmont and Warren Glaze is the new principal at Blackford.

ELEMENTARY

Campbell Union (elementary) District expects an enrollment of 10,500 in the 19 schools of the district. Both Moreland and Cambrian will also open next Monday.

According to Superintendent Jim D'Avis, of the Campbell district, a special effort has been made not to reduce services in any area and to improve services in some.

Principal assignments and projected enrollments of the Campbell schools are:

Blackford, K-8, Donald Bergstrom, 670; Campbell Elementary 4-8, Dorothy Sutter, 820; Capri, K-6, Mark Jennings, 470; Castlemont, David MacLeod, 430; Cypress, K-8, Ralph Dill; Dover, K-6, Ernest Rideout; Forest Hill, K-6 Louie Albanese; Hamilton, K-6, Charles Reed; Hazelwood, K-5, Tony Van Laarhoven, 810; Lynhaven, K-6, Kathryn Merry; Marshall Lane, K-6, Kenneth Meinecke, 670; Monroe, K-8, Robert Downing, 720; Moorpark, K-6, David Gillies; Parkway, K-6, Claude Walsh; Quito, K-6, Galen Wilcox; Rolling Hills, 7-8, Robert Turk; Rosemary, K-6, Bruce Stevenson; San Tomas, K-6, James Bryan; Sherman Oaks, K-6, Adrian Cibilich.

The district's central staff personnel will be similar to last year with the exception that Fred Peterson, who has served as administrative assistant has been appointed assistant superintendent and that C. E. Bradley, business manager of the district since 1952, will retire on Dec. 31 and Dr. Orrin Bachelor has been named as his replacement.

Allan Watson, who has returned from a two-year contract in American Samoa, will serve as consultant in the areas of federal programs and information services.

Editorial

On street names

A determined effort will be made, it has been reported, to make the street signs that are posted in town correspond with the official designation of the streets. We consider that a good idea.

An official street name survey has just been completed by the public works department under the direction of Frank Lewis, associate civil engineer for the city that 62 street signs now in place have the wrong street name.

While we concede that this matter of street names as opposed to street signs is a minor problem, we also submit that the matter should be corrected.

Obviously, in most cases, whether a street is a drive, a road or an avenue is really no big deal.

On the other hand, it does show carelessness to some degree on the part of the city staff when signs are put up that don't correspond to the official street names.

Of course, there are unusual situations that have developed over the years that are the fault of no individual or any particular city department.

We cite the example, as a for instance, "McGlincey Lane".

The survey shows that there are 18 street signs with respect to that particular street that do not correspond with the official name.

But it is a question of spelling.

According to the survey, the proper way to spell the street is "McGlincy."

But most of the signs (18) show it as "McGlincey."

We agree that it should be either "McGlincey" or "McGlincy" but we aslo must admit that, over the years The Press has spelled it both ways and that, until the official survey was made we had not bothered to check which was the proper spelling.

On the other hand, we note that there are 12 street signs in place now that show "Latimer Street" whereas that particular thoroughfare is "Latimer Avenue" and has been from the start.

And we noticed also that there are 10 signs that show "Midway" as a street and it should be an avenue.

An interesting sidelight to the whole package is that one of the complaints from residents that was registered prior to the survey involved only the two signs that designated "Fewtrell" as an avenue. The other signs showed it as a "drive" which apparently is the official nomenclature.

According to the survey, each sign costs $2.58 and that it will cost a total of $159.96 to put things in shape streetsignwise, that is.

But we think it will be money well spent, if all of us can be reasonably certain that the streets in town are properly designated.

To "yield" or not

Recently City Councilman Rusty Hammer was involved in an automobile accident at an intersection in which "yield" signs were on the cross street. Rusty was traveling on the street on which he had the right-of-way.

Hammer was seriously injured in the accident and will be laid up for several months.

But whether there were any injuries in the accident is not really the point.

It seems to us that the "yield" signs at the particular intersection proved terribly ineffective.

And that raises the question in our mind as to whether there is any value in such signs in the first place.

That point was also emphasized at a recent City Council meeting by Bill Wren, public works director who is also traffic engineer for the city.

Wren submitted that it may now have become necessary to take another look at the entire "yield" picture.

It seems, he pointed out, that as long as the sign reads "yield" and not "stop," people have a tendency to overlook the implied warning.

Wren suggested that when the "yield" signs were first installed some years ago, the message seemed to carry more weight than now. He added also that it was much simpler to put up "yield" signs than "stop" jobs.

To install a "stop" sign at any intersection, the City Council must take official action based on a survey of the situation, etc., whereas a "yield" sign can go up at the discretion of the traffic engineer.

We recognize, however, that eliminating all "yield" signs and replacing them with "stop" is really not the answer.

Very definitely putting "stop signs" at every intersection would be the height of folly.

To begin with it has been stipulated that "stop signs" are not supposedly to be used to slow down traffic. Such signs are to be used with care and at intersections where the traffic warrants them.

The purpose of "yield signs," on the other hand, is to warn the driver to proceed with caution at the intersection.

Unfortunately, in our opinion, it all depends on the driver.

If he pays no attention to "yield," he also could run a "stop" sign.

IT IS ONLY FAIR TO mention at this time that the so-called "talk shows" that come on the TV in the late. late hours do not really "send us."

It is not that we have anything against the stars who put on the shows. We recognize that everyone has to make a living.

And that's one way.

But we seem to never be awake when the big shots are expounding on the tube.

So our experience with Cavitt, Griffin and Carson has been quite limited.

Except in one instance recently.

We were informed by both Patti and Peggy, daughters of the Don Hebard's, who were vacationing in Washington, D.C. and New York, that Don was going to be on the Dick Cavitt show.

The two gals didn't have any of the details. But their parents had informed them by phone that Don was going to be on nationwide TV with dear old Dick (Cavitt).

To make a horribly long story somewhat shorter, we did stay up a couple of nights to catch the show. After all, how many times have you been on the Dick Cavitt job?

Unfortunately, a couple of times, the big show was preempted by a movie or something as spectacular.

But, for the record, we did catch Don on his nationwide TV debut.

It did, of course, take a little doing.

How did we do it?

So glad you asked.

AFTER BEING INFORMED by Patti and Peggy that Don was on the show and then faced with a couple of false alarms, our little Dorothy played it smart.

She set the alarm after we had gone to bed.

Have you ever awakened in the dead of night to music and talk coming off the TV and then wondered just what was going on?

By one of those rare hapenstances, it so happened that we hit it right.

We did see Don Hebard on nationwide television.

Fortunately, our boy Hebard came on after we had managed to wipe the sleep from our eyes and were in a more or less semi-conscious state.

On this particular program, Steve Allen was substituting for Cavitt.

Maybe you saw it.

Allen was presenting a vignette satire of sorts on soap operas or something entitled "Klave County."

We gathered the theme was to show that more time was spent on commercials and introductions of the characters than on action.

Anyway Don appeared as a character called "Malcom somebody" who was represented as the average voter in "Klave County".

The camera panned in on Hebard from all angles and showed him with a self-conscious smirk that was supposedly typical of that worn by all "average voters".

Quickly we add that Don had no script to follow and, we learned later, he was not told what it was all about.

He was just picked by the camera crew before the show. Steve Allen just ad-libbed like crazy when Don's mug appeared.

It took us a little while to go back to sleep after Hebard had made his grand entry on nationwide television.

But we managed.

STILL, ON THE OTHER hand, dear old Steve Allen, ironically, could not have known what a paradox it was to have Don Hebard appear as the "average voter."

For the record, Hebard has made quite a study of the thinking of the average voter, as the results of a number of local elections have indicated.

So we think it was quite fitting that Hebard portrayed that nebulous individual on TV.

After all who is better qualified?

He has really worked at it in about four local elections.

UNDER CONSTRUCTION on Winchester Blvd. is the "Outrigger Skin Diving and Sport Shop of Campbell."

Obviously at the moment there isn't much to show for what will be the operation a few months from now. It will be a unique business where scuba diving will be taught in a new pool etc.

We have chit-chatted with Bill Jones and his partner, Orley Paxton, who will operate the business, and we plan to give you all the details of the interesting business as they get ready to open.

The two partners, incidentally, recently published a legal notice specifying that they plan to operate the firm under the fictitious name of "Outrigger Skin Diving and Sport Shop of Campbell" at 2110 Winchester Blvd.

Routinely the gals in the office sent the affidavit of publication to the address specified in the legal advertisement.

Subsequently it was returned to us by the post office with the notation that the address was a "vacant lot."

So it was delivered by hand the next time Jones and Paxton dropped by.

They indicated that the "vacant lot" would not be "vacant" much longer.

OUR WARPED FUNNY bone caused an extra chuckle recently when the office received a post card from Marye Moore, now residing in Howe, Oklahoma. Marye had previously lived in Campbell and was a long-time postal employee.

Marye in her note complained that she was paying extra postage in order to get The Press in, of all places, (Sally, please note) Howe, Oklahoma.

Marye's note: "Hi, Sure enjoy the press but hate to pay postage due on it almost as bad as George does on a bill. I gave my new address before I left, and it was changed for one issue and then went back to the old address. Sally, what happened? Anyway I sure miss seeing you guys and gals every day. Say hello to all and keep the papers coming. Love, Marye Moore."

We don't know what happened, Marye. We hope it's all fixed up.

And we concede that it must be griping for a postal employee to pay "postage due."

GRADUATES — Supt. James P. Hardy of West Valley College presents the Level I certificate in the college's new supervision and management program to Stephanie Vance, of Trend Personnel Agency. Ms. Vance is one of 17 students who completed half of the management program during the summer session. These students must only complete five additional courses to receive their certificate qualifying them as first line supervisors. Other students shown are: (left to right) Joe Runk, General Services Agency, Santa Clara County; Roy H. Halterman, Pacific Telephone; Patrick McAtee, Good Samaritan Hospital; R. Kent Hanrahan, Valley Reproduction; Ms. Vance; and Ella Asbury, Stanford University's main librarian. West Valley's management program, begun last September, is unique in that there are no other nationally designed programs to train first line supervisors.

District to add services in speech therapy field

Services in speech therapy in the Campbell Union (elementary) School District will be increased this year, according to Jim D'Avis, district superintendent.

Last year's staff of four has been increased to eight. This service is supported by state and not local funds, D'Avis noted.

In other special education areas, the superintendent reported that five psychologists will continue to serve the district along with seven upper grade counselors and one Title I counselor.

There will be seven classes for educationally handicapped located at Parkway, Lynhaven, Dover and Capri schools. Three classes for mentally retarded will continue, two at Hamilton and one at Campbell Elementary.

The district administrators also pointed out that more than 125 youngsters have been identified for small group and tutorial learning disabilities at the students' home schools. There will be two full-time home teachers for children who cannot attend school.

The district will have one blind resource teacher, one braillist and one part-time visually handicapped resource teacher. The staff noted also that the Optacob machine, an electronic device which enables blind people to read ordinary printed material, will continue to be used in the blind program and it is hoped that this program can be increased.

Other physically and mentally handicapped children will, as usual, be educated outside the district.

A small increase in state funding, the district administrators explain, has also made it possible to retain educational field trips.

It was also noted that busing services for youngsters will not be reduced from last year with about 10% of the students bused to school.

Cancer of the colon and rectum strikes American men and women about equally and is second only to skin cancer in incidence. But the American Cancer Society says almost three out of four persons with colon-rectum cancer could be saved by early diagnosis and prompt treatment. Club visits Blind Center, need voices for the blind

Members of the West Valley Federated Womens Club of San Jose served as hostesses at an official open house held recently at the Santa Clara Blind Center at 101 North Bascom Avenue. Mrs. Tom Monahan of Campbell helped to greet the many local guests and representatives of city and state government.

The Center is open on a daily basis from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. to people of all ages. A project originated by Mrs. Florence Peer, project chairman for the club, is the "Story by Cassette Tape Time," a program for pre-school disabled, blind or Head Start children offered each Tuesday at the Center.

Guests at the open house viewed the facilities and equipment used at the Center, displays of crafts, braille books. Sue Bailey, a blind student at Westmont High School, played her guitar and sang some of her original songs.

Volunteer voices for recording of the tapes are needed as the club is developing a permanent lending library. Anyone wishing to contribute their time to this community service projec may contact the Blind Cente or Mrs. Peer.

COYOTE CREEK CLEAN-UP --Some members of Boy Scout Troops 318 and 346 who recently participated in a clean-up program of Coyote Creek in San Jose.

Boy Scouts stage clean-up project on Coyote Creek

Members of Boy Scout Troops 318 and 346, of the Pioneer District, combined forces recently to stage "Project Coyote Creek Clean-up" in which they picked up rubbish and trash along the banks of Coyote Creek adjacent to Tuers Road and south of Singleton Road in San Jose.

The project was suggested by Morrison Homes and that firm contributed to the treasuries of the two troops in return for the work accomplished.

The 22 scouts and four adult leaders were under the direction of Scoutmaster Cliff Avery, of Troop 346, and Steve Goodman, Pioneer district chairman.

The scouts spent five hours picking up rubbish, garbage and discarded furniture and hauled it away in a truck furnished by the City of San Jose. The truck was driven by Pete Chirichigno of San Jose's public works department.

It was estimated by the leaders that 40 cubic yards of trash were removed.

The scouts noted that in some instances signs that had been placed along the creek by the Ecology Club of San Jose State asking people not to dispose of their rubbish along the creek had been torn up and thrown into the creek with rubbish.

Goodman said that Pioneer District is hopeful that a second clean-up project will be undertaken and that the remaining rubbish in the area will be removed. He said also that the Scouts were hoping also that the public would show its appreciation of the troops' work and will discontinue using the creek as a disposal area.

County group joins fight against VD

Santa Clara County's number one public health problem has become venereal disease.

In 1971 over 3,732 cases of gonorrhea were reported to the County Health Department, according to Aaron Fink, M.D., a Mountain View urologist, who has become concerned about the problem.

Because of the statistics, the County Health Department reports that VD has reached epidemic proportions.

Eighty per cent of the women who have gonorrhea show no symptoms. Three out of four cases go unreported.

In the last ten years there has been a 1,000 per cent increase in this County.

If not treated, VD can cause sterility, blindness, insanity, heart disease, paralysis or deformity in the advanced stages. VD also is highly contagious and can be passed readily from one person to another through sexual contact.

The Santa Clara Valley Venereal Disease Awareness Association has decided to confront the problem by promoting community awareness of the VD problem in this county and the state.

The association also is preparing presentations for local schools, radio and television spots, a speakers bureau, and presentations for various fairs.

The group holds monthly meetings in an attempt to face the issue and displace the fears, guilt, ignorance and apathy that usually accompanies VD.

"Educating the public is half the battle," states Pam Healy, health chairman of the association.

The members of the association, explained Pam, include such groups as the Junior Chamber of Commerce, Santa Clara County Pharmaceutical Association, San Jose Junior League, Santa Clara County Medical Auxiliary, and the Parent-Teachers Association (PTA). Members also represent San Jose State University, the City of San Jose, Santa Clara County Health Department, San Jose Youth Clinic, and other groups.

The next meeting is September 12, at 7:30 p.m. in the auditorium of the County Health Department, 2220 Moorpark Ave. The meetings are free and open to the public. They feature movies, group discussions, and speakers.

Buildings get emphasis

Among the areas that will increase special concern in the Campbell Union (elementary) School District during 1972-1973 will be in the maintenance of buildings and grounds, Superintendent Jim D'Avis has pointed out.

D'Avis said that additional personnel and an increased budget will allow the maintenance to be stressed.

He said also that the district intends to develop new federally and state funded programs to special needs of the youngsters not being met through the regular school program and an effort will also be made to individualize instruction by the use of student tutors and parent volunteer aides.

D'Avis said also that Family Life Education instruction will occur in at least one fourth, fifth or sixth grade classrooms in each school prior to the end of the 1972-73 school year but that no primary FLE program is planned this year.

In four of the upper grade schools, the superintendent notes, experimentation with the trimester program will take place to provide more diversification and flexibility in the scheduling.

Reception honors Mr. and Mrs. Carl Field on 50th wedding anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Carl B. Field, long-time residents of Campbell, were honored on Sunday, August 27, marking the 50th wedding anniversary of the couple. More than 250 people attended the reception that was held in the afternoon at the Congregational Church in Campbell.

Mr. and Mrs. Field were married in Independence, Kansas at the home of the bride's parents, on August 24, 1922 and honeymooned in Green Mountain Falls, Colorado.

In 1925 they moved west to Palo Alto and shortly thereafter Field purchased a grocery store on East Campbell Avenue in Campbell which was operated as Field's Store for the next 33 years.

During their residence in Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Field (Carl and Roberta) have been active in local school, church and civic groups. Field is a charter member of the Campbell Kiwanis Club which was organized in 1926 and he served as president of the club in 1937.

Joining Mr. and Mrs. Field for the golden anniversary celebration were their four grown children, spouses, nine of their 11 grandchildren and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Chase (Rachel), Mrs. Field's sister and brother-in-law, and their two children. Mrs. Chase was in the original wedding party.

On the Saturday night prior to the reception a family dinner of 24 was held at Los Gatos Lodge and the same group attended church services on Sunday before the reception. Soloist at the church services was Mrs. Richard (Rita) Field, who also with her husband hosted a family dinner for 39 at their residence on Sunday evening.

FASHION SHOW

Invited guests will be entertained by members of the Women's Auxiliary of the Community Hospital of Los Gatos-Saratoga at a fall fashion show on September 22.

Designated as a "Flight Into Fashion," the annual event is being arranged by Mrs. Robert Leonard of Los Gatos.

Church plans celebration luncheon

A celebration luncheon will be held for church members of the Congregational Church of Campbell on Sunday, September 10, following the morning service.

The afternoon program will culminate a summer's work by the church children towards sending a Heifer and calf to an African village, along with poultry and small animals to other underprivileged areas. The summer project went beyond its original goal of $250.

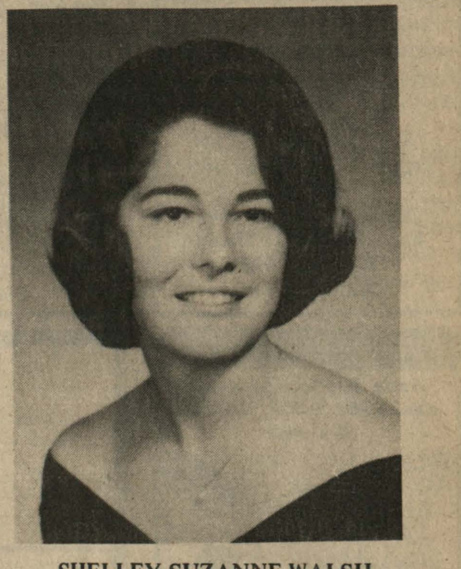
Funds were raised by the children in a variety of different ways, including a car wash and the picking and selling of apricots in front of the church.

Handmade candles, leather and bonnets were sold by the youngsters.

Mrs. Faith King was summer program coordinator of the mission-oriented activities.

At the Sunday luncheon, a special program of African folk music and a playlet by the young children will be offered.

Shelley Walsh is engaged



SHELLEY SUZANNE WALSH

The engagement of Shelley Suzanne Walsh to Jeffrey Charles Smurthwaite has been announced to family and friends by her parents, Mrs. James D. Forrest of Pleasanton and Claude L. Walsh of Los Gatos.

The future groom is the son of Mrs. Elizabeth F. Smurthwaite of San Jose and Richard C. Smurthwaite of Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia. He completed three years of military service as a member of an Army band stationed in Berlin, Germany. Jeffrey is continuing his musical career playing trombone with local stage bands and theatrical groups. He will enter college in the fall as a political science major.

Shelley, who first walked down the aisle with Jeff at eighth grade graduation, will be a senior at U. C. Davis, continuing her double major in English and American Studies. They are both graduates of Campbell High School.

Shelley's interest in Veterinary Science led to a two and a half year research job in the Animal Science Nutrition Laboratory as a technician for a high production milk trial.

Shelley enjoyed the week-long celebration of her twenty-first birthday while vacationing at the Claude Walsh home on Winchester Blvd., and the twenty-fourth birthday party for her sister, Penny Walsh. Her younger sister and brother, Claudia and Roger, are looking forward to participating in the wedding, tentatively set for June of next year.

CAMPBELL CHRISTIAN SCIENTISTS

Wimmer Davis, Adair Peake, Carolyn Mashos, Joyce Green, Helen Gilmore and Brad Yearwood will be among the young Christian Scientists attending a special conference at Stanford University on September 8 through 10.

Theme for the three-day meeting is "Discovering the Potential of Healing."

MEDITATION

The International Meditation Society will present a free public lecture on Tuesday, September 19, in room 34 of Campbell High School.

The lecture will explain the techniques of transcendental meditation, which proponents say is neither a philosophy nor a religion.

Troublesolvers give help when needed

Santa Clara County's Information and Referral Unit at 299-3131 will provide help in just about any problematic situation.

When an elderly person is in poor health, with little food or money, and no family to care for him, he can call the unit.

Cases of child abuse, adults in need of protection, disabled persons, retarded individuals, and emergency food or shelter cases are all handled by the unit.

Landlords call about troublesome welfare clients. Welfare clients call about troublesome landlords.

Information and referral ties the Social Services Department together. They refer calls to other divisions within Social Services, as well as other agencies within the community, and even other countries or states.

Cupertino banker to head '73 county March of Dimes

The 1973 March of Dimes against birth defects in Santa Clara County will be headed by Glenn Nelson, manager of Barclays Bank in Cupertino, according to Parker Hathaway, chairman of the county chapter, National Foundation-March of Dimes.

The March of Dimes is the means of raising funds for The National Foundation, national voluntary health agency working in the field of birth defects. Twenty five per cent of the money raised by local chapters goes directly into a fund which finances grants for research institutions, operation of Birth Defects Research Centers, and contributions to Salk Institute. Remainder is divided evenly between the national organization and the individual chapters to be spent on national and local patient service programs, public and professional health education, and other community services.

Nelson was county vice-chairman this year, working with Douglas Duckham of Saratoga, chairman. Community chairman for Campbell was Wallace D. Perry. Results of the 1972 MoD in Santa Clara County will be announced at the annual meeting this fall.

MARCH OF DIMES---Douglas Duckham (left), Saratoga and San Jose insurance man, who was chairman of the 1972 March of Dimes against birth defects in Santa Clara County, congratulates Glenn Nelson, Cupertino banker who was vice-chairman this year and will be chairman next year. Looking on is James Blinn of Palo Alto, a member of the executive committee of the county chapter, National Foundation-March of Dimes.

Fair closes for 1972

A total of 418,849 people joined in the fun of the recently completed Santa Clara County Fair.

Total attendance was up 15% over the 1971 figures, although less than the record set in 1970.

Several single-day records were set at the Fair. Saturday, August 19; Sunday, August 20; Monday, August 21; Wednesday, August 23; and Saturday and Sunday, August 26 and 27 drew the largest number of fairgoers for those days in the history of the Fair.

Pleasant weather and the several entertainment attractions were credited with helping to attract the large crowds. An estimated 20,000 fans filled the Grandstand for the five free professional stage shows starring comedian Jerry Van Dyke and songstress Barbara Hanna. The annual destruction derby held the last day, drew a capacity crowd.

Dates for next year's Fair have been tentatively scheduled for August 17-26.

Campbell auto racer moves into lead for state title

by Tom Carroll

The "Campbell Flash," Howard Kaeding, moved into the point lead for the NASCAR State Super Modified Championship with a tenth place finish at Clovis on Friday and a third at San Jose Speedway on Saturday. Kaeding is now 18 points ahead of Caruther's Everett Edlund who finished 17th in both races.

The Friday night race at Clovis was part of a twin bill with the BCRA midgets.

The trophy dash went to Edlund with Kaeding finishing fourth. The semi-main was an all-Fresno affair with Dave Pombo taking the checkered flag. The 50-lap feature saw Bob Cetti of Fresno in the lead with San Jose's Bill Scott right behind.

Howard Kaeding set fast time at the San Jose Speedway on Saturday night of 13.954 Sec. This converts to 85.13 mph. He also finished second in his heat race and the trophy dash. Both times he was bested by San Jose's Nick Ringo. Other heat winners were: Jim Diego, San Jose; Jack Epperson, Milpitas; and Bill Scott of San Jose.

Kaeding's third place finish in the feature was made possible by some fast pit work. The red flag came out to stop the race in the sixth lap when Ray Otis of San Jose flipped end-for-end in the first turn. Kaeding pulled into the pits with a flat tire. New rubber was on the car before the restart.

Nick Rescino of San Francisco took the event for his seventh feature win of the year. San Jose's Ted Witt was second. This time Kaeding was ahead of Nick Ringo with San Jose's Don Epperson in fifth position.

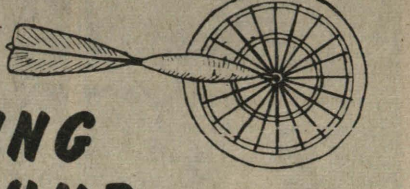
The boys were winners of the Pacific Association AAU cross-country team championship for their age group.



DARTING AROUND

with Tom Carroll

Well, the County Fair is over and it's time to get back into the swing of things. Tonight is the awards dinner for the summer league at the Scarlet La Rue in Los Gatos. Since the summer league was unofficial, all teams didn't play each other, awards will be given for sportsmanship.

Teams are now forming for the Fall-Winter League of the Northern California Darts Association. Entries should be in this week with competition to start later in the month. Many of the places that fielded teams in the summer league are looking for players as some of the darters that helped to set up their summer teams are going back to their regular NCDA sponsors.

NORTH AMERICAN OPEN

Area darters did very well last month at the North American Open Dart Tournament in Culver City. Top winner from our area was a duo from Scarlet LaRue's in Los Gatos. Phil Albers and Gary Curtaz took first place in the doubles competition, while teammate Ben Macredes finished third in the singles.

On the distaff side, Darla Nelson of the Lancashire Lad IV took fourth place in the Ladies Singles.

In the five-man team competition, the team composed of Rick Miller, Dick Hodge, Paul Schultz and Bud Guardino from the Banbury Clock coupled with John Glaze from the Scarlet LaRue tied for fifth place out of a field of 150.

All competitors who went south for the 3rd Annual NAODT reported having a great time. This is definitely one of the largest tournaments for our sport on the North American continent. This year's purse was $6,000.

Mugs!

Track team wants new runners

Sparta Track Club, a boys' age-group track team, won the Pacific Association AAU cross-country team championship and ranked as the second place team in the California State Championships for the 12-13 age group last fall. The boys are hoping to repeat the wins this year.

Practice begins this week under the direction of Bill Campbell, cross-country coach at West Valley College. Campbell, who has coached Sparta for two years, is convinced age-group track should be a low pressure program combining fun and work.

Boys interested in running may call 358-1347 or 265-1745.

ST. LUCY'S

YOUTH COUNCIL REPORTS

by Rose Phillips and Carol Silva

On August 25, 26 and 27, St. Lucy's Youth Council participated on a camping trip at Pine Crest. It was an enjoyable experience for all who went.

There was a planned group hike around the lake and after that swimming for all.

As for the food it was typical of campout cooking.

On Saturday night the whole group sat around the campfire listening to poems, singing and just getting to know the others a little bit better.

All in all the camping trip was a success. We had no trouble and everything went as planned.

Up-coming St. Lucy's activities include a dance on Sept. 8 at St. Lucy's Hall. Performing will be the Dutch East India Company. The dance starts at 8:30 and will end at 11:30. The public is welcome to come and the price is $1.50 per person at the door.

Winter baseball sign-ups to be completed this week

This is the final opportunity for boys to register for the Campbell-Moreland Pony League winter program.

Those interested may sign up tonight or Thursday night between 7 and 8 at the Rincon Field clubhouse.

Campbell-Moreland expects to enter at least four teams in the two-division Santa Clara County Winter Pony League which begins play Saturday, Sept. 16.

One division will accommodate boys who will be returning next summer as 14-year-olds in the C-M League, and the other division will take care of boys who played their final year of Little League this past season. Graduates of Campbell, Moreland, Quito and any other area Little League are welcome to join the latter division.

Each boy, however, is required to pay a registration fee of $5 to be submitted at sign-up time.

The Little League graduates will participate in a two-day orientation clinic this Saturday and Sunday at Rincon Field. Saturday's session will begin at 11 a.m. and Sunday's agenda will get under way at 1:30 p.m. At these sessions, the boys will be introduced to such phases of baseball as base-running, lead-offs, rundowns, pitching stances and pickoffs---or areas where the differences between Little League and Pony League are conspicuous.

All games in the Winter League are played on Saturday exclusively.

Methadone program is a success

Santa Clara County's methadone program is successfully turning former heroin addicts into "legitimate wage-earners" and the results are "impressive", according to a federally financed evaluation of the program.

Some 163 addicts who have been on methadone in the County for 25 months are estimated to have saved the public $10,700,000 in that period. The savings are from thefts, burglaries, robberies, vice and other illegal activities usually performed by addicts to finance their drug habits.

The evaluation estimates that "drug-related" crimes cost the County $47,500,000 per year.

The County's methadone program with five operating clinics is the largest of 31 such programs in the state.

The County Health Department estimates total operation costs of the clinics to date at less than $650,000.
